

A day at the theatre - Write a letter

Imagine you lived in Herculaneum, and went to the theatre. You're writing to your friend who lives in Rome to tell them about your day. You can choose whether you're a rich or poor person, and whether you had a good time or not. You might want to mention the type of play you saw, the actors, and the comforts and discomforts of the theatre.

Dear .....

Sorry for my bad handwriting, this piece of papyrus is of terrible quality!

I want to tell you about my day at the theatre. I had a ..... time!
